EXT. BLACK - DAY

Blackness slowly fades up to reveal a soft amethyst glow. The camera pans to reveal a planet with a purple dwarf star as its primary. No stars exist in this galaxy save the dwarf.

The camera begins a slow push toward the planet.

ARACELI (V.O.)

I was born on Jiandus Prime, capitol world of the Ayonian Star Empire. I was to be the two hundred and twenty second queen monarch of the empire. But as I entered the world, so did an armada of Grand Imperium battle carriers and war galleons enter our star system. Their goal was a simple one, rain fire down on our world. A surprise for the queen to be on the day of her birth.

FADE IN:

The camera begins to track through the clouds and move towards the surface. The planet is dark with an eerie purple glow.

ARACELI (V.O.) (CONT'D)

I survived and the Ayonian Empire went to war. From the Tobrian Rift to the Eilev Cascade, millions died with no end in site. When I was five, I was sent to Duonis to being my training as not only a queen, but a battle lord. Since know one knows the location of Duonis save the royal family and the Warmasters, my arrival should have been a secret.

FADE OUT.

FADE IN:

The camera begins to track through a dark forest.

ARACELI (V.O.) (CONT'D)

We were no alone. The Grand Imperium had found Duonis. They left over five thousand shocktroopers in wait. My ship was damaged and would never fly again. My soldiers were decimated. Only I and the Warmaster Jaxa Zaen were left alive. That was eight years ago. Over that time we have watched the Grand Imperium soldiers mutate from a virus in the atmosphere to become maniacal beasts. Always hungry...

(pause)

Jaxa and I were not effected by the virus. So we wait for a rescue ship from home. But none has come, leaving us to fear the worst. But sometimes providence can surprise you.

FADE OUT.

CUT TO:

EXT. FOREST - DAY

ARACELI and MAJOR NICK BOUDREAX are in a copse of trees. Boudreax is listening to his comlink.

SAM (RADIO)

Captain, this is more difficult to achieve in The allotted amount of time available to us. Calculation And logic dictate that we have a seventy six percent chance of rescuing one of them. You know I'm right...

BOUDREAX

Negative. You know we need to do this. Why are you being so heartless?

SAM (RADIO)

Not heartless, Captain, scientifically pragmatic.

BOUDREAX

I'll get back to you.

Boudreax shut down his comlink and looks down at Araceli, knowing she has heard every word.

ARACELI

(Nervous)

I take it that was not good news?

BOUDREAX

Don't worry about it, kid. Look if you're gonna be out here I just want to show you a few things, okay?

Boudreax puts a large blaster in her hand stands behind her, tries to show her how to balance and brace herself. You can tell Araceli is very uncomfortable.

BOUDREAX (CONT'D)

This is a standard blaster. Very simple to operate. Powered here points here remember keep your finger off the trigger until you're ready to shoot. When you find your target gently squeeze the trigger ease it back.

Araceli fires the weapon and it sets off an enormous blast in her hands, very loud and uncomfortable. It's obvious she is not comfortable with the weapon, scared of it.

ARACELI

This is stupid, why do I have to do this, you shoot these things better than I do. I don't understand why you're trying to teach me.

BOUDREAX

Because kid you need to know how to protect yourself. Between here and the ship, there's a lot of ground to cover. I can't watch my back and yours. If we get separated, I won't be around to protect you.

ARACELI

What do you mean why would you not be around?

(pause)

Are you gonna leave me here? You said I could come with you you said you're gonna take me and Jaxa with you!!

BOUDREAX

(Thinking Quickly)

I didn't say that. I didn't say was gonna leave!

ARACELI

YES, You Are!!!

BOUDREAX
Stop it kid! You're making something out of nothing I said that you need to learn to protect yourself you need to learn how to shoot.

ARACELI
No, I don't!

BOUDREAX
Yes, you do.

ARACELI
(getting angry)
NO, I DON'T!

BOUDREAX
Kid!! Yes, you do! It's a miracle you survived this long. You need to learn how to use this.

ARACELI
Stop...Calling...Me Kid!!!

Araceli clenches her fist while standing in front of a small boulder. She puts her hands out and, with her own energy, thought and aggression, pushes the rock from a still position faster than a laser bolt and on impact the rock explodes..... The dust settles and Boudreax is in awe.

BOUDREAX
wha...what was that! How did you do that!!

Araceli Looks at him still angry breathing heavily. Trying to calm herself down.

ARACELI
I don't like blasters and I don't need one to protect us!

BOUDREAX
No I guess you don't... Wow!!

Ari looks at him, emotion coming into her face.

ARACELI
(quietly)
Please don't leave us here.

Boudreax realizes that he can't, and he succumbs to his emotions.

BOUDREAX
I'm not going to leave you.

She hugs him, and his voice com link activates.
